

James Le Baron Boyle Scholarship for Study Abroad

The James Le Baron Boyle Scholarship was endowed nearly forty years ago by Dr. James Le Baron Boyle, a professor in the King's College English Department, to encourage English majors to travel abroad. This scholarship - our largest endowed fund for study abroad – now supports King's students of all majors.

Eligibility:

Students of all majors are encouraged to apply for funding for programs of various types and lengths, including King's faculty-led study abroad programs. In keeping with the donor's intentions, preference will be given first to English and Professional Writing majors, next to majors in other humanities disciplines, and finally to any qualified student.

Scholarship decisions and award amounts will be based on:

- Evidence of financial need
- Evidence of academic excellence demonstrated via transcript

Application Deadline and Instructions:

There are two application deadlines each academic year:

- November 30 for upcoming Summer Faculty-Led Programs and Spring External Programs
- March 31 for upcoming Summer and Fall External Programs

Students apply using the common study abroad scholarship application form available on the Study Abroad website. The online application requires:

- an essay (1-2 pages) addressing prompts about the student and their aspirations for study abroad
- a most recent transcript (either official or unofficial).

Students will be notified of awards within eight weeks after the application deadline. Scholarships will be applied to student's study abroad account only after the student has been accepted to an approved program and has submitted a financial commitment (deposit).

Additional Requirements:

Scholarship recipients will be asked to participate in:

- The King's College Annual Scholarship Brunch, hosted by the Advancement Office (formal invitation to follow), and
- The Study Abroad Photo Exhibit upon returning from their program.

For more information contact the Office of Study Abroad, StudyAbroad@kings.edu.