

MANAGEMENT

If you have been thinking about a career which will give you the opportunity for professional growth in the management of today's dynamic business organizations, a major in Management at King's can take you there. Your education will focus on developing your personal values and character, with an understanding of liberal learning competencies applied in a business context, such as oral and written communication, critical thinking, team building, and strategic planning. You will further refine your education with major courses such as global business management, innovation, e-business and human resources management.

What Makes Us Different

At King's College you will develop your business skills by taking courses in the William G. McGowan School of Business. The McGowan School of Business is accredited by AACSB International – The Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business, which represents the benchmark of quality for business education worldwide. By earning AACSB Accreditation the McGowan School of Business has proven our commitment to quality and the continuous improvement of our business programs - a powerful differentiator worldwide.

"Attending an accredited business program was something that was very important to me. At King's, the McGowan School of Business met these needs and fulfilled my expectations by offering internship opportunities and experiences which simulated what I would find when I joined the workforce after graduation. From managing multiple projects at once, to relating well to others, I'm grateful to have learned these values and skill sets taught at King's because they can be used for a lifetime of success."
